Chapter 1 by Baconator

Right now we are in World War 3 my name is Phoenix and I live in the US. We have just evacuated my hometown city Seattle because Germany dropped radiation bombs and very few people did not get infected. My mom and dad died early in the war so now it's only me and my pitbull. There is no one country winning the war because everyone is dying from lack of water, disease or just plain getting shot. Since most people are dying from war the US is trying to make war robots. These robots are more efficient than humans because they have more gun power and can carry heavy armor.
